Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Underwood et al. (7,152,207).

What we claim is:

1. A web site design tool comprising:

a plurality of design modules...

an interface enabling selection, by a user, of different ones of the design modules of the plurality to be included in the web site, the selected design modules... forming a package of design modules; and means for forwarding the package of design modules to a client web site server.

2. The web site design tool of claim 1, wherein the plurality of design modules includes visual modules and functional modules.

3. The web site design tool of claim 1 wherein the interface is a
